Registration for MNR

- 6) Pre-entry system: This can be found on the MNR page of the Club website. This allows the recording of important information such as emergency details and updates all competitors of any changes, acknowledgement of the rules and other legal stuff. This will also assist with race administration at each event.
 - a) The online pre-entry registration form is to be completed by all competitors. One registration covers all races in the specified series of MNR and it does not commit the rider to racing every week.
 - b) It is compulsory for all competitors to register for the series on the Club website.
 - c) Riders turning up for their first race of the series without pre-entry will be manually signed in for that race only but must complete the online Pre-entry form before competing again in the series.
 - d) Current paid up club members are covered by the clubs insurance.
- 7) Non-members: The intention of MNR is to provide an opportunity for a wide group of cyclists to join in and benefit from an organised road racing series.
 - a) To handle the insurance implications of non-members, they will be required to register for the MNR series. This will involve providing details, declaring the rider's status as a non-members and their intent to join Cycling Otago if they wish to compete beyond an initial trial period.

- b) In the first instance, all non-members should register for MNR through the Club website.
- c) The rules detailed in the pre-entry system clauses apply to non-members. Non-members who initially manually sign in for a race will be required to sign a waiver.
- d) Non-members will be expected to join Cycling Otago within 3 races.

- 8) Club race numbers: Race numbers are required to allow easy identification of riders during the race and to determine final race placing's.

Marshalling

- 15) Each race requires a number of Marshals to do support roles for the event. Cycling Otago will provide STMS set up and finishing line services.
 - a) There is an expectation that Marshal duties will rotate and all competitors who take part will take a turn. An attempt is to run this on a volunteer basis to allow all riders to select when they do Marshal duty to suit their needs.
 - b) If there are insufficient volunteers to be marshals, then allocation of duties on the night may occur.
 - c) Marshals will gain full points (equivalent to race completion and race first place) for marshalling in a maximum of one race during each series.

Competitor Categories and Movement

- 16) The competitors entering the race series will be allocated into a structure of Categories by the Race Committee based upon factors such as ability, fitness, skill development and results from previous MNR series and club events. An initial Category ranking will be issued by the first round.

- 17) At the nominated point during each series, there will be a formal review of competitor's performance which may result in riders being moved between Categories. The aim will be to make racing fair but challenging and to provide development opportunities for riders seeking to improve.
 - a) Movement between the categories may occur at the discretion of the Road Committee.
 - b) After the review the aim is to have regular riders fixed in categories, but the Road Committee may continue to move riders at their discretion if it benefits the series, the development of rider skills or for safety reasons.
 - c) Movement between Categories can only be at instruction of or on prior approval of the Road Committee. No movements for the night can be made at sign in, only requests for the following week can be lodged
- 18) Riders moving between categories will take their accumulated points with them.
- 19) To contest for series category winner, riders must contest a minimum of 4 races in their final series category.
